

Memphis Business Journal

THE BUSINESS AUTHORITY OF THE MID-SOUTH

Vol. 30, No. 5

May 23-29, 2008

memphisbusinessjournal.com

$3.50

$30 million residential project set 220-acre site at Belle Farms

BY EINAT PAZ-FRANKEL

LT, Inc., is launching a $30 million residential community in unincorporated Fayette County, north of Rossville on Wade Road.

Developed by LT's father-and-daughter team Tom Taylor and Lucy Taylor Young, the 220-acre Belle Farms will include 49 lots of up to 2.5 acres each with houses starting at 3,500 square feet. Home prices will range from $500,000 to $775,000, Taylor says. Now under construction, the community is expected to be completed in spring 2009.

ALAN HOWELL | MBJ

Tom Taylor and Dave Williams check plans at Belle Farms.

Belle Farms, zoned Rural Preservation and Enhancement District, will have more than 100 acres of natural pastures, riding trails and a 27-acre lake. The site is also

See BELLE FARMS, Page 56